

Julian Sinclair

VP Research

Julian, hailing from the UK previously worked on the founding team of Alma Eco-cities Ltd. and has consulted to leading solar energy companies including BrightSource Energy and Arava Power Company, as well as to NGO's including the UNDP and Friends of the Earth Middle East. Julian began his career as an economist advising the UK government. He holds a Masters in Public Administration specializing in Environmental and Development Economics from the Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University, and a BA (First Class Honors) in Philosophy, Politics and Economics from Oxford University.